THEATRE ROOFS

LEADING ARCHITECTS

THE THEATRE ROOF is charged with more than ordinary responsibility. The safety of human lives is at stake—and the fireproof roof is ever on silent guard duty.

Concrete is ultra fire-safe. In its perfected form as precast reinforced slabs, it represents the furthest advance in modern roof construction. Its great strength with light weight saves steel—it is proof against the elements, smoke, steam, rust—there is no maintenance whatever—it is speedily erected in any temperature—it is the lowest cost permanent roof obtainable today.

The theatres shown in this book are representative of the many roofed with Federal—flat or channel slabs for flat decks—for sloping roofs, red interlocking tile requiring no composition covering.

In like manner, Federal is widely used for other public buildings, such as schools, churches, auditoriums, gymnasiums, athletic field houses, and for general industrial and railroad buildings as well.
